Dedication

We dedicate this Forester to that anonymous but omnipresent gremlin who lurks within our school. It is he who makes chalk squeak and adolescent voices break . . . drains fountain pens dry . . . opens windows in winter and turns on the heat in summer . . . rings late bells so early . . . puts ears in the walls and eyes in the back of teachers' heads . . . and who will probably trip us as we climb the platform to receive our diplomas.

Now, as we are leaving, we realize that it is he who has put the sparkle into these past four years. Others may search for him, but will not find him, for he will have passed into the future . . . with us.

DR. LEO R. RYAN

Dear Friends:

During the course of your career at school you have been given the opportunity to elect a wide variety of courses depending upon your vocational interests. For many, your work here has been in preparation for admission to liberal arts colleges; others have chosen courses that fit them for further study in other professional fields of applied arts and science. Still others have received training that will be useful in the business and industrial life of the city.

In addition to the preparation you have made in these various fields, all of you have worked, studied and played together.

In class and out of class, by long association with teachers and other schoolmates, we hope that each one of you will constantly strive to improve those qualities to which the American high school is dedicated.

Far more important than the acquisition of knowledge or good marks is a worthy character. A love for truth, a respect for our neighbor, an unselfish civic attitude, a loyalty to the American way of life.

We can only evaluate the effectiveness of the school in helping to achieve these ends by your personal conduct and actions after you leave here. May you by conviction and courage show the way!

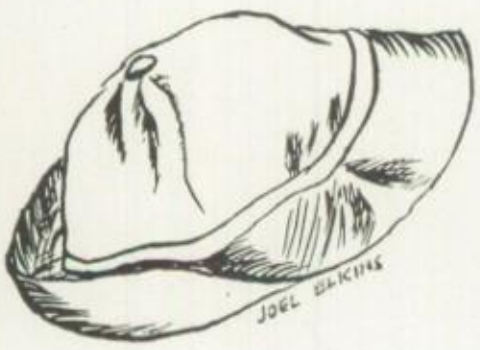
Class History



LET US RAISE A SONG . . .

Our songs for the past four years may have been blared in the wrong key or sung by a tenor with a changing voice, but that's the way we want to remember them. Above all, we want to remember — the plays at Christmas time, the lighting of the Menorah candles as the choir chanted the traditional hymns and the pyramid of candle bearers who formed a Christmas tree as carolers sang "All is calm, all is bright" — the annual Spring concerts where we first heard the haunting voice of the electronic instrument made by one of our own students and the lovely harmony of our own chorus and orchestra — the big musical productions, "Everybody's Dudin' It" and "Hit the Deck" with our blonde soprano Connie Titus.

TO ALMA MATER STRONG . . .

Remember how we — cheered our hard-hitting hard-headed soccer team to victory — watched the swirl of red skirts as Ann Enea led the cheer leaders in the shout "Yea team," for Marshall Lowe, Gary Pastoret, Ken Pollack, Danny Hirsh, Al Harper, and the other players — marveled at our persevering swimmers who put dry land to good use — thrilled at the cry "Safe at third" at the baseball games and at the burst of speed which carried our track stars over the finish line—developed our biceps Charlestoning in the Girls' Gym.

OUR GUIDE AND STAY . . .

Let us pay tribute — to Mr. Swirsky who put over the best advertising trick of all time when he sang "A, you're adorable" over the P.A. — to our Section Teachers and the patience with which they combated Freshman Follies and Senior Sophistication — to our pedal-pushing Mr. Bartlett and the staff of Guidance Counselors — to all the teachers who tolerated our antics in classrooms and praised each precocious offspring on Parents' Night — to such gems of advice as this from lovable Dr. Leonard who, when asked for his opinions on lipstick, said: "When I have some old furniture around that doesn't look too well, I paint it, soooo . . ."

SHE'LL BE FOR AYE . . .

How about that first time — we went to a school dance, awed by the multicolored lights, the imaginative names — and — Walter? We were amazed by the sight of dignified seniors sporting short pants, long beards, and lollypops —we carried home to Mama a report card marked Superior in some subjects,

*D*elightful in others, and *U*nique in just a few — we realized we could no longer pack our books two minutes before the end of the period — we found ourselves rhumbaing on the lunch line and munching in three quarter time — F.H.H. held a Prom for Juniors and we were it!

HER POWER WILL LONG SUSTAIN US . . .

We were proud to be a part of the class of '50 — when we bought the May issue of "Seventeen" and found, on the cover, a bevy of Forest Hills beauties and, listed beneath the short story contest winners, the name of Louise Goldwasser who had won first prize for "The Cocoon" — when our socking soccer star, Don Hertan, won the title of all-city goalie — when tennis racqueteers Ken Pollack and Bob Goldberg slammed their way to the P.S.A.L. crown for three years — when aspiring Forest Hills scientists won second prize in the Cancer Exhibit with their miniature model hospital — when nine of our own Einsteins won honorable mention — when Shirley, Louise, and Mimi all had poems in the Teen ager's delight, "Seventeen" — when we looked about us and realized how many wonderful friends we'd made.

WHEN WE MUST PART . . .

We spent four years looking forward to — the day when the halls of our Alma Mater would come alive with the gaudy flashes of our own senior hats — our day for running (or ruining) F.H.H.S. — stalking the halls, fearing neither man nor teacher — charging up the marble stairs — perching self-consciously on the edge of the photographer's stool — donning the flowing robes and the mortar with glee and taking them off with sadness.

DEEP GRAVEN IN EACH HEART . . .

Then there are those unforgettable traditions — like the flower sale when everyone is reminded that Spring is just around the calendar—like the toting of the portable radios all through the Series, knowing that some rooting teacher will allow the class to catch a few innings — like the April Fool's Day issue of the "Bacon" that left the whole school wondering for at least two seconds — like the inevitable Freshmen girls bobbing down the hall after senior hats have been distributed, with guess what perched on their blonde curls — like lazing on the grass of the back campus.

WILL LIVE FOND THOUGHTS OF YESTERYEAR . . .

And the special things that occurred only during our high school career and no other. Things like — that smallpox epidemic when everyone's number-one activity was getting vaccinated — the school wide search to discover where Kilroy wasn't — the days when all that was needed to be "well dressed" was a skirt which swept the floor and lovely, practical, ballet shoes — the night "Arsenic and Old Lace" was presented with all the leads played by members of our own senior class — the way we cried over "Harriet" and laughed through "Out of the Frying Pan" — the speech made by Harold Russell which inspired us as few things have ever done.

Prophecy

It took twenty years before someone realized that the Senior Pins of the Class of 1950 were radioactive. Something had to be done immediately to collect all these menaces to mankind, and the school immediately set out to locate the owners. There were no official records of the class, since the school had refrained from using ink to conserve water during the Great Shortage of '50. The only reference guide was the prophecy in the Yearbook and it was the only hope of saving the population of the United States from these dangerous pins which were due to explode on June 2.

The school investigators first called the "New York Daily Bacon" because the prophecy had said that the Beacon Boys: Bob Ambrose, Donald Ruby, Eric Salzman, Bob Kahan, and Alex Horne would all become editors of this paper. They were there as predicted and although not full-fledged editors, they promised to send in their pins as soon as they finished sharpening pencils for the rest of the staff.

Next they got in touch with Sara Lee Moltz, the eminent woman scientist. Miss Moltz had recently borrowed a formula from Robert Wolff who had taken it originally from Charles Eyring. Somehow she had discovered the secret of perpetual youth and had given the potion to Erika Graf. The other twin, Eva was very angry. Erika remained 17 while Eva became 39. Along with her own pin, Sara sent those of her associates.

Bob Falise, Dick Daytz, and John Paul Jones, for whom the book had forecast political success, were soon found at the Capitol in Washington where they shared the joint honor of being the oldest page boys in existence. Also down in Washington was Howard Morgan who had just built a better mousetrap. With him was Bob Ceisler who was helping to get the invention patented. Bob was very friendly with Dick Morganstern. They had been putting atoms in jumping beans, claiming that they would jump higher. Theirs took six more pins off the list.

Logically the next call went to Don Hertan and Martin Lindenauer, whom the Yearbook had seen as future athletic "greats." They were located on Park Avenue where they had recently opened a reducing salon. They promised to comply with the request if their competitors across the street, Messrs. Pastoret and Harper would do likewise. Their messages were carried in relays by those speed demons, the Schorr twins.

Carol Berg, the next graduate in the list was appearing in Kenny Kloper's dramatic extravaganza, "Cyanide and New Ruffles." The Bacon in their review said that her male lead, Ken Berkman was stealing most of the scenes. Carol became angry and by means of a cup of wine poisoned Ken and his two understudies, Harold Mittleberg and Larry Scharer. Luckily Dr. Don Chemaine was in the audience and with the help of Frank Miele, a painless dentist, they were able to administer an antidote; thus the boys lived and were able to turn in their deadly pins.

Even such hard to find people as Doris Schaffer, President of the Women's League for Women's Leagues, were heard from. The President and Veep of a subsidiary organization, The Artists' Club of Greater New York, were former graduates, and so Martha Reed and Susan Lowey sent their pins along too. Doris got in touch with Helga Marcus and Harriett Salinger. Helga was running a kindergarten for Sweet Young Children and Harriett was ably assisting her as child psychologist and all around handy man. Together they rounded up five pins because Harriett had happened to meet Miriam Blumberg in the street one day. Mimi, the author of "Genius Turned Housewife," an autobiography, rounded up the pins of Louise Goldwasser, star of stage, screen, radio, television, the opera, and ballet, and Shirley Henschel, often referred to as the "Robert Frost of Queens County."

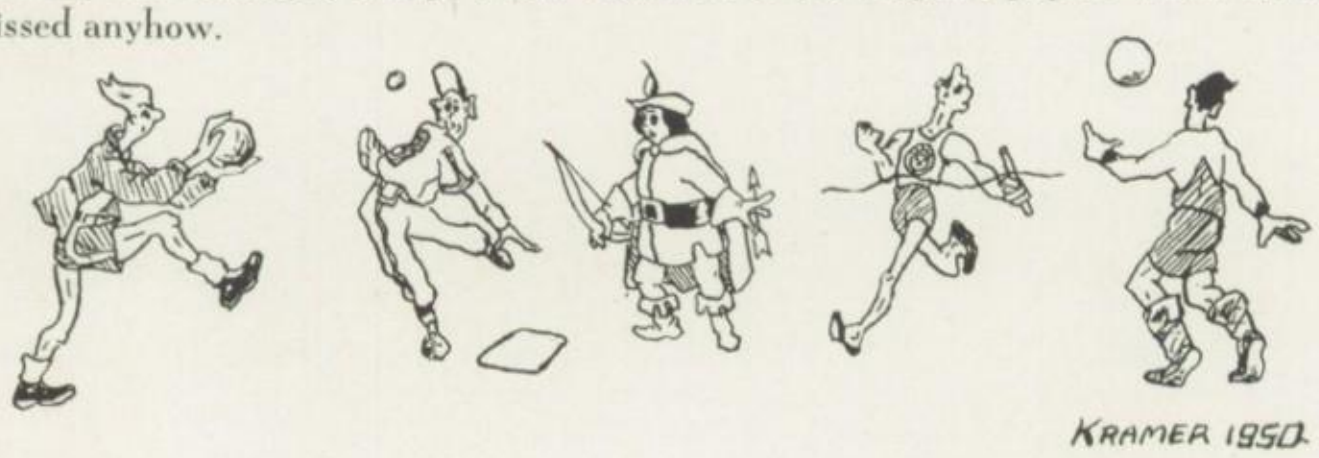
Several members of the class had been picked for prominence in the musical world. Finding them was comparatively simple because all had won fame and fortune. Roger Hiller was a soloist with the Forest Hills Philharmonic, and Ruth "Sophie" Maurer and Connie Titus were featured with Pat Lombardo's Royal Rangers. In this group too, were Bob Van Gutfeld and his clairvoyant 'cello. The band's slogan was "The Sweetest Music This Side of 110th Street and 67th Road." Jacques Lipetz and Neil Silverman, as press agents for the group, had made the world know who they were.

Big names in the news were those of Tony Banome and Toots Bron. Tony danced with his famous stuffed doll at Toots Bron's nightclub. Sharing the bill was that hilarious funnyman, George Cohen. The clique was very glad to be of help and so remitted their pins without delay.

Ken Pollack too, was easily found. Having taken the Wimbledon and Davis cups the past summer he was then organizing the first co-ed basketball team. On this team were Marshal Lowe, Danny Hirsh, Ann Enea, Charlene Solow and Barbara Landa. Their first game was against Carol Fassler's "Lafayette Boys." All these people were glad to search through old attics to find their pins.

Joan Robbins, Bunny Roslyn, Helen Schenker, Paul Sanders, and Herby Germaise had set up their own Supreme Court. They claimed that Rudy Mantel, the "Flying President," had his head in the clouds. Defending Rudy were Jerry Evans and Glenna Lewis; however, they stopped their great trial to return their Senior Pins.

After the remaining pins had been collected in this manner, the school rushed them down to a vault where they were buried. The pins went off on June 2, as expected, but nothing was damaged except a few trunkfuls of old Regents papers which no one missed anyhow.



FOREST HILLS HIGH SCHOOL

Alumni Association

To the Class of June 1950:

Welcome to the Greater Forest Hills Community consisting of some three thousand graduates of our school, organized as an Alumni Association. Through the Association you can keep in touch with your school and fellow classmates through the years to come. Fine friendships can be maintained through the Association, and added to your growing circle of interests and contacts.

With the help of Dr. Leo R. Ryan and Mr. Martin J. Delman the Alumni Association was incorporated under the membership Laws of the State of New York on May 13, 1949. Thus an organization was created which will endure through the years. The following members of the faculty have given us help in founding and maintaining the Association: Miss Renée J. Fulton, Mrs. McCanna, Messrs. Spata, Snizek, Cascio and Manheimer. All members of the staff have contributed in many ways.

What part can you play in the Association?

1. Attend Alumni Reunions each year.
2. Become an active member of your class committee. Consult your Permanent Class President.
3. Volunteer for activities that interest you, as suggested from time to time in the "Alumni News."
4. Inform us immediately at the school of change of address.
5. Send personal news items to the "Alumni News" at the school.
6. Pay your dues annually of $1.00; or $5.00 for a Life Membership.

Permit me to wish you good luck in all your endeavors and remember that we will always be interested in your progress.

Sincerely yours,

KATHLEEN SWEETMAN JANCA,

President
